WELCOME TO VOL.3 OF PASSPORT PARK CITY

Winter is here and another ski season is underway! I'm a dark-blue skier at best — my favorite part of the day is the apres-ski time when you get a chance to relax and share the day's stories over a glass of champagne, a delicious fondue or a tasty burger.

New additions to the Passport Park City team are Brand Champions Lois and Scott Bridges, longtime Park City residents and active members of the community. As you turn the pages, you'll discover where to play in the snow, from skiing and snowboarding to snow tubing, snowmobiling and more. On and off the slopes, what to wear is always part of the winter-season experience.

Furry boots, cozy hats, the hottest new ski jacket — there's a boutique and a ski shop nearby to update your winter-season fashion statement. In the evenings, stroll through the 20-plus art galleries and bring home a piece of your favorite artwork.

Enjoy this issue of PASSPORT PARK CITY and take it with you to explore!

PAUL & SILVIA DAVIS OUR COVER ARTISTS

Although Paul and Silvia have both exhibited professionally for many years, their upcoming two-person show in March at Trove Gallery in Park City will be the first time their work will come together in Utah. Silvia received her MFA in sculpture from the University of Utah. She is best known for her highly original and expressive wood and bronze sculptures depicting animals and still life. Paul received his MFA from Boston University and went on to teach painting and drawing at the University of Utah. His current paintings have been inspired by the mountains and red rock of Utah. Living and working just outside Capitol Reef National Park for 25 years has had a deep influence on their art. Although Paul and Silvia work in different mediums, they both incorporate creation and destruction as part of their process in a way that is similar to the forces they observe in the natural environment around them. Their work can be found in acclaimed collections and museums, including the Utah Museum of Fine Arts. Inquire: art@troveparkcity.com

FRESH TRACKS

Park City, home to two distinctive ski communities, beckons all lovers of the powder. Snowboarders and skiers carve down the slopes alongside each other at Park City Mountain Resort (recently bought by Vail Resorts), now the country's largest ski area. Here you'll find the world's only heated chair lift, miles of terrain for all levels, and so many snowy trails that you could explore a different one every day of the season. Nab an Epic Pass to do just that — this seasonal pass grants you unlimited access to all Vail Resorts worldwide. For the best in concierge skiing, head to Deer Valley, a skiers-only mountain where lift-ticket purchases are monitored to avoid long lines. Boasting the ultimate in corduroy runs, these perfectly groomed slopes flank exclusive hotel brands like Montage, Stein Eriksen Lodge and the St. Regis. Enjoy amenities like ski valets, complimentary tours from Mountain Hosts (they'll point out the secret stashes of powder), and the chance to run Olympic slopes alongside championship skiers. parkcitymountain.com, deervalley.com

Fewer crowds, tons of snowfall, and 1,200 acres of epic terrain draw novice and skilled snowboarders to Solitude Mountain Resort. Learn from the best at the Snowsports Academy, which offers lessons for all ages.

Olympic skier Heidi Voelker takes to the trails at Deer Valley, where she serves as the skiing ambassador for the resort.

SKI SCHOOL

Whether you're a Black Diamond skier or a kid as new to the slopes as the season's first snow, there's always something fresh to learn. With 330-plus trails and nearly 7,300 acres, Park City Mountain Resort offers ski lessons for all levels, complete with perks like access to the front of the lift lines. Deer Valley features teen- and women-only classes, private instruction and exclusive programs like the Steeps and Stashes clinic. One day of ski school can change everything on the slopes.

SNOW PLAY

Skiing isn't the only way to explore Park City's winter wonderland — hop on a snowmobile, slide down a bobsled track, sprawl on a snow tube, or ride on a dogsled. Snowmobilers can choose from guided or unguided tours, racing through groomed trails amid 100-year-old aspen- and pine-tree forests, scaling steep, snow-covered mountainsides, slicing through fresh powder at thrilling speeds, or carving new backcountry paths through alpine bowls and meadows. Check with your concierge to plan your adventure.

BURNS SADDLERY, BURNS COWBOY SHOP

BURNS
since 1876

With 140 years of expertise, Burns 1876 has created timeless custom pieces that transcend a simple product and become a work of art.

Our Sunset Trails buckles continue the handcrafted legacy of artistry, heritage, and the authentic beauty of the West that Burns has embraced since 1876.

Started by founder Miles Lamonie Burns and family-owned since 1876, Burns honors the tradition of using high-quality leathers to manufacture exquisite products made in the USA.

Each generation has been innovators for its time. Aware of the ever-changing world around them, the Burns family has been able to thrive, delivering leather goods needed by their consumers.

Today, fifth- and sixth-generation owners have shifted their focus to crafting beautiful products that tell their own family journey, creating a legacy to pass on for generations. Recently, the Burns family acquired the nearly 100-year-old silver company Sunset Trails. This opens up a remarkable opportunity, as Burns manufacturing becomes vertical in yet another sector of the company, including saddles, hats, belts and now silver.

How do you find a great drink in Utah? Vine Lore has you covered. For over 20 years, we have been carefully curating a diverse portfolio with an emphasis on family-owned wineries and craft distilleries that have a sense of place and a story to tell. Vine Lore is a locally owned fine-wine-and-craft-spirits brokerage made up of passionate advocates and knowledgeable educators dedicated to bringing the best in wine and spirits to Utah. You can engage us for wine education and hosted wine events for your business or home parties. And for some inspiration and guidance on what to pick up at the state liquor store, check out our product reviews, new gems, special events and monthly sales (yes, even in Utah!).
