GUIDE TO SHOPPING, DINING, ARTS & MORE

THE ALFOND INN & HAMILTON'S KITCHEN

Named in honor of Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College from 1925 to 1949, Hamilton's Kitchen embodies one man's pursuit of innovation, quality design and philanthropy. The iconic president was known for inviting too many people over for dinner gatherings, saying "If you can find a chair, you're welcome in my kitchen." Different styles of chairs pop up as homage to Holt throughout the restaurant, where Southern fare is served with a modern twist, where locally sourced ingredients fuse with the rustic, open-table charm of a bygone era. Located in The Alfond Inn, Hamilton's serves breakfast, lunch and dinner seven days a week.

WELCOME TO VOL. 9 OF PASSPORT WINTER PARK

Welcome to our annual Fall Foodie issue!

Central Florida's TOP CHEFS embraced our creative vision of capturing their passion for food and fun. Only our talented photographer, Jon Whittle, could've executed this unique celebration with such ingenuity.

We are honored to have the participation of Chef Norman Van Aken, Founding Father of New World Cuisine and multiple James Beard Award winner. A big thank-you to all of our chefs who create memorable dining experiences for locals and visitors alike daily.

This issue is also rich with arts and culture, including new museum exhibitions and a feature on New York artist Tom McGrath and his ceiling painting at the Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts. A special thanks to Dana Hargrove, our cover artist, contender in the Florida Prize of Contemporary Art and Rollins College professor.

Shop the many boutiques for fine jewelry, high fashion and everyday looks, or go big with a luxury car or new home. The experts in real estate, architecture and design are all here.

Enjoy! And don't forget to tell everyone you saw it in PASSPORT WINTER PARK.

DANA HARGROVE COVER ARTIST

Dana Hargrove, born in Edinburgh, Scotland, graduated from Duncan of Jordanstone College of Art, Dundee University, Scotland with a Bachelor's of Fine Art with Honors in painting. She continued her education in the States with a Master's of Fine Art from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. Hargrove is a professor of studio art at Rollins College in Winter Park, where she now resides. Hargrove concerns herself with ideas that frame our perceptions of the land and our sense of place and space, employing a range of media, from photography and collage to sculpture and large-scale paintings. Represented by the Bridgette Mayer Gallery in Philadelphia and Snap! in Orlando, she continues to exhibit her work both internationally and nationally. Hargrove has recently exhibited work at the Orlando Museum of Art; Deiglan, Akureyri, Iceland; Alt_Space Gallery, Atlantic Center for the Arts; Cornell Fine Arts Museum; Bridgette Mayer Gallery; and Greatmore Studios, Cape Town. She has received several honors and awards: finalist for the 2017 Florida Prize, National Young Painters Competition First Place Award, full artist-in-residence fellowships at Hambidge Center for the Arts, Vermont Studio Center, CentralTrak, and Greatmore Studios' artist in residence in Cape Town, South Africa.

CORNELL FINE ARTS MUSEUM

This fall, discover the kinship between contemporary art and science through Time as Landscape: Inquiries of Art and Science. The exhibition depicts the artists' desire to understand, question and portray time and debuts several new acquisitions, including a sculptural commission at The Alfond Inn at Rollins, where much of our contemporary collection is on display. As always, admission is free, and we are now open until 7 p.m. on Tuesdays. Enjoy companion exhibitions this season on view at the Orlando Science Center and The Mennello Museum of American Art.

SEE EYEWEAR

Voted “Best Eyewear” over 60 times in readers’ polls from coast to coast, SEE is a gouge-free environment for people who appreciate trendy luxury eyewear without the absurd price tag. SEE’s philosophy of producing incredibly small quantities (many times only one or two of a single frame in a specific color per city or per store) makes SEE the go-to locale for eyewear aficionados looking for the closest thing to custom frames.

CENTRAL FLORIDA'S TOP CHEFS

In the next 18 pages, we capture our TOP CHEFS' distinctive styles and personalities, starting with world-renowned Norman Van Aken, Founding Father of New World Cuisine, who's cleverly tucked into a sculpture at the Modernism Museum, a partner to 1921 by Norman Van Aken. Brandon McGlamery, the James Beard-nominated talent behind Prato, Luma and Luke's, and his team don't like to take themselves too seriously outside the kitchen. Italian virtuoso Francesco Aiello is most at home when he's cooking seafood, while Jerry Craft savors each swirl of wine as a sommelier. Husband-and-wife team James and Julie Petrakis have revolutionized the gastropub and are particularly fond of the pig. At blu on the Avenue and 310 Park South, Tony Krueger proves that he's the lobster whisperer, and Jason Klingensmith of Hamilton's Kitchen has never met a tilefish he didn't like. Sugar is the star at The Glass Knife, Stuart Whitfield's new pastry shop and café. Central Florida is fast becoming a powerhouse foodie destination, and our TOP CHEFS are leading the way.

CHEF NORMAN VAN AKEN

What is your favorite dish to prepare? Our Sunday Suppers at 1921, where it's less about me as the chef and more about all of us sharing food and quality time.

What famous chef would you love to cook with? Jacques Pepin, whom I had the pleasure of cooking for. I admire his renaissance sensibilities and loving nature.

What city inspires you most? I'll go with New Orleans. The joy is to volley between the grande dames and the newly created places.

What is your favorite way to spend a day off? Bobbing along the shoreline in a nicely outfitted boat with my family.

What would be your last meal on earth? It would include caramelized plantains and black beans, the first foods I tasted when I got to Key West.

CHEF BRANDON McGLAMERY

PRATO • LUMA • LUKE'S

What is your favorite dish to prepare? Beef cheeks or pork belly, cooked slow and low, on my Big Green Egg.

What famous chef would you love to cook with? Either the late Michel Richard or Jean-Louis Palladin.

What city inspires you most? It changes annually. This year I'm going to Milan, Montreal and Minneapolis, and I'm hoping to find inspiration from all three.

What's your favorite way to spend a day off? Fishing and fixing fine, fun food with my family.

What would be your last meal on earth? Caviar, popcorn, bad-ass barbecue, tacos, all washed down with lots of champagne and tequila.

CHEF JAMES & JULIE PETRAKIS

THE RAVENOUS PIG

What is your favorite dish to prepare? Freshly caught redfish “on the half shell.” I love this way of grilling fish, skin side down, scales and all.

What famous chef would you love to cook with? I’ve always respected Eric Ripert’s way of preparing dishes, particularly seafood.

What city inspires you most? Definitely New York. Julie and I loved living in the city, and we were constantly inspired by the diverse cuisine.

What’s your favorite way to spend a day off? Fly-fishing for tarpon or redfish.

What would be your last meal on earth? It’s so hard to pick just one, but I’d have to say my Ya-Ya’s lamb moussaka.

Answers by James Petrakis

CHEF
KLINGENSMITH

HAMILTON'S KITCHEN,
THE ALFOND INN

What is your favorite dish to prepare? That's the hardest question for a chef. I can't pick just one, but it would definitely be seafood-inspired.

What famous chef would you love to cook with? I would love to have cooked with the great French pioneer Auguste Escoffier.

What city inspires you most? My hometown of Miami. Just like my food, it's colorful, sexy and full of energy.

What's your favorite way to spend a day off? That's a no-brainer: fishing on my flats boat.

What would be your last meal on earth? Dry-aged ribeye, truffle fries, foie gras butter, and a bottle of Sine Qua Non Five Shooter grenache.

KRUEGER
JOANNE MCMAHON

310 PARK SOUTH • BLU ON THE AVENUE

What is your favorite dish to prepare? Linguini con vongole. There's magic that happens in a sauce with fresh clams, a little garlic and extra-virgin olive oil.

What famous chef would you love to cook with? Chef Jacques Pepin — I watch him and try to express my passion just as he does. He's truly a master of the trade.

What city inspires you most? Miami for its diversity in food. And who doesn't love swaying palm trees?

What's your favorite way to spend a day off? I enjoy spending time with my family, cutting the grass, and time on the beach.

What would be your last meal on earth? Hands-down, my last meal would be chicken wings. I love them crispy and super spicy. Oh, and an ice-cold Miller Lite.

CHEF FRANCESCO AIELLO

FRANCESCO'S RISTORANTE

What is your favorite dish to prepare? My passions are fish and seafood. Many wonderful dishes can be created with the fruits of the sea.

What famous chef would you love to cook with? Carlo Cracco. He's creative and passionate about his dishes. We share a love of Italian culture.

What city inspires you most? Palermo, Sicily, where I learned about the beauty of the food in my country and found my passion for cooking.

What is your favorite way to spend a day off? Taking a road trip in a fast car to get out of the city and visit one of my favorite restaurants.

What would be your last meal on earth? Frutti di mare, a beautiful dish of fresh seafood in a light white wine and anisette sauce, paired with a glass of falanghina.

CHEF JERRY CRAFT

APRONS COOKING SCHOOL

What is your favorite dish to prepare? It changes almost daily; right now, I'm into everything peach.

What famous chef would you love to cook with? Julia Child, without a doubt. I loved her passion for educating people on making excellent food.

What city inspires you most? Orlando! The culinary scene is exploding. It's an amazing place to be as food takes center stage.

What's your favorite way to spend a day off? With my husband, Mark, at the beach.

What would be your last meal on earth? I'm a steak-and-potatoes guy at heart. I'd take family and friends to Hillstone for a Hawaiian ribeye, loaded potato, a glass of Chappellet cab, and the walnut brownie for dessert.

CHEF STUART WHITFIELD

THE GLASS KNIFE

What is your favorite dish to prepare? Cookies. They're fun, and most people have an emotional tie to them. They may be simplistic, but a really good cookie is not easy.

What famous chef would you love to cook with? Dominique Ansel. He is a master of our craft, and I admire his innovative approach that balances creativity and tradition.

What city inspires you most? New York City — it's where my culinary career began. The food scene is continually changing, so there's always something new to discover.

What is your favorite way to spend a day off? Taking the time to relax and catch up with family and friends.

What would be your last meal on earth? A bowl of sugary breakfast cereal. The biggest I could find.

New York artist Tom McGrath has etched his place in the art world through a visionary use of mediums, space and light. He created a 1,000-square-foot ceiling painting for the Dr. Phillips Center's Alexis & Jim Pugh Theater using 32 hand-painted panels fashioned in unique patterns and structures. At first glance, a sense of movement and repetition guides your eye as shades of magenta, teal and orange swirl into each other. Unlike most art, the ceiling has no perspective. "No single point of view is the point of view," says McGrath, noting the importance of this piece of artwork as both a shared and personal experience. drphillipscenter.org

FUTURE ASTRONAUT

SHARON HAGLE,
SPACEKIDS GLOBAL

Prominent Winter Park couple Sharon and Marc Hagle, Future Virgin Galactic Astronauts, have launched a mission all their own: to educate one million children on the possibilities of space exploration through the foundation SpaceKids Global. In partnership with Orlando Science Center as well as public and private schools throughout the country, SpaceKids ignites students' interest in science, technology, engineering, art and mathematics, stressing the importance of these fields in our ever-changing world. SpaceKids is setting children on a course to quite literally shoot for the moon and beyond, and Sharon Hagle is, without a doubt, their guiding North Star.
